Directions:

Step 3: Reflect on how each identity bubble shapes the way you view and interact with the world. As you reflect, consider how you would feel if someone devalued one of your identity bubbles. How might devaluing an identity cause harm? Use the space below to write your reflections.

Step 4: Review any differences (step 2) that were listed. What are some of the ways you might be able to acknowledge, accept, celebrate, and value the differences of another person? You can also consider how you will do this for yourself!

Acknowledge	Accept	Celebrate	Value
"I see you are an immigrant. You were born in a different country"	"Your citizenship status does not make you a less loving and caring person"	"I am so glad you are part of my classroom community"	"As an immigrant, you bring new perspectives to our community, and I want to learn from them"
